

The University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky 40506 U.S.A.
(606) 257-4666

Vincent Davis, Director
Patterson Chair Professor
of International Studies

14 March 1978

STAT

[Redacted] USN
c/o The Director of Central Intelligence
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear John:-

Enclosed are a few copies of our WORLDVIEW '78 program featuring Scott Breckinridge later this week...and a few copies of the poster (hot off the press) featuring Stan the Man Himself. All of this, needless to say, is merely for your files, archives, shredder, wastebasket, or whatever you do with this kind of stuff.

Best regards,

Vincent Davis

Enclosures

PROGRAM

8:30 - 9:30 a.m. Registration

8:30 - 9:30 a.m. Several films for those arriving early
Hot chocolate and doughnuts available

9:30 a.m. Opening Session
Welcoming Speeches and Orientation
KEYNOTE ADDRESS: Scott D. Breckinridge
"National Intelligence for the Present and Future"

10:45 a.m. Small Group Session I

12:15 p.m. Luncheon

1:15 p.m. Film: "Cuba, Bay of Pigs"

2:30 p.m. Small Group Session II

3:45 p.m. Panel Discussion followed by question and answer session involving all WORLDVIEW resource people

4:30 p.m. Adjournment

WORLDVIEW is an annual conference on world affairs designed to bring Kentucky high school students into face-to-face contact with national and world experts to discuss important issues of the day. The first WORLDVIEW conference was held in 1973 and offered the opportunity to discuss the Mideast oil crisis. Since then, WORLDVIEW conferences have focused on such topics as Mao's China, USA-USSR detente, contemporary foreign policy issues in America's third century, and last year, America's relations with the developing world.

THE LEXINGTON ROTARY CLUB AND
THE ROTARY CLUBS OF KENTUCKY

University of Kentucky

BEING INTELLIGENT ABOUT INTELLIGENCE:
THE ROLE OF U.S. INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES
IN THE MODERN WORLD

Friday
March 17, 1978

Student Center Building
University of Kentucky

WORLDVIEW 1978

BEING INTELLIGENT ABOUT INTELLIGENCE: THE ROLE OF U.S. INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES IN THE MODERN WORLD

Intelligence gathering plays a fundamental role in the formation and implementation of any nation's foreign policy. How that role should be carried out is one of the pivotal issues facing American decision makers today. There is a growing concern at all levels of government about the effective administration and operation of the American intelligence community. Recent revelations about past CIA activities both at home and abroad have moved this issue into the public eye as never before in U.S. history. In response to public criticism and Congressional investigations, the President has put forth several changes in the organization of our intelligence community. And the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Intelligence, headed by our own U.S. Senator Walter "Dee" Huddleston, has now proposed new legislation for the CIA and other agencies. It is, therefore, very important for us, as citizens, to understand the issues and to form opinions about the role of U.S. intelligence in promoting our national security.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

SCOTT D. BRECKINRIDGE is currently the Deputy Inspector General of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. A graduate of the University of Kentucky, Mr. Breckinridge has had a long and distinguished career with the U.S. intelligence community. He joined the CIA in 1953 and has since held a variety of positions culminating with his appointment as Deputy Inspector General in 1973.

In addition to Scott Breckinridge, other distinguished resource persons who will take part in small group discussions with you are:

EMERSON M. BROWN, Assistant Deputy Director of the Bureau of Intelligence and Research of the U.S. Department of State.

VINCENT DAVIS, Director of the Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce, University of Kentucky Professor and noted intelligence specialist.

[redacted] currently serving as STAT Assistant National Intelligence Officer for Political Economy, Office of the Director of Central Intelligence.

ROGER LEMASTER, Legislative Counsel to Kentucky U.S. Senator Walter D. Huddleston.

MAJOR WARREN H. MILBERG, USAF, Office of Policy and Planning, Intelligence Community Staff, Office of the Director of Central Intelligence.

MAJOR WILLIAM C. RENNAGEL, U.S. Army, Military Assistant to the Director of Net Assessment, Office of the Secretary of Defense.

GEORGE WILSON, III, Intelligence Specialist, USNR; Executive Vice President, Kentucky Automotive Wholesalers' Association.

President Carter's Director of Central Intelligence and Director of the CIA

Admiral
Stansfield Turner
U.S. Navy

Will appear on the UK campus to deliver a
JOHN SHERMAN COOPER DISTINGUISHED LECTURE

7:15 - 9:00 pm
WEDNESDAY
APRIL 12, 1978
GRAND BALLROOM
UK STUDENT CENTER

"NEW DIRECTIONS IN
THE U.S. INTELLIGENCE SYSTEM"

SOME OF ADMIRAL TURNER'S ACHIEVEMENTS:

- Graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1946, No. 1 in his class
- A Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University in the Master's Degree Program in philosophy, politics and economics.
- A graduate of the Advanced Management Program at the Harvard Business School
- Director of the Navy's Office of Systems Analysis, 1971 - 72
- 36th President of the Naval War College, 1972 - 74
- Commander-in-Chief of the NATO Forces in Southern Europe, 1975 - 77

Sponsored by the Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce

UIS-SP 214
-0278-

Professor Vincent Davis
Director of Patterson School
UK - Paterson Tower 1665
Lexington, Kentucky 40506

→ JOHN KIELEY:-

Jim Alcorn, featured in the article on page 2 of this campus periodical, is the man who will be our Lions Club host and who will introduce Stan at the Lions lunch here on 12 April. Good chap.

-Vince 3/15/78

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY communi- K

Volume 9 Number 26 April 18, 1977

The Ford Visit

Gerald R. Ford, 38th President of the United States, visited the University of Kentucky for two days last week.

Mr. Ford delivered a major address critical of the War Powers Resolution of 1973 before 8,000 people at Memorial Coliseum. He was guest of honor at a dinner at Spindletop Hall hosted by UK President and Mrs. Otis Singletary, and mingled freely with several hundred people at a reception following his address.

The former president also met for nearly four hours with UK students during a series of special seminars on the 18th floor of the Patterson Office Tower.

Mr. Ford's public lecture was the second in the newly-established John Sherman Cooper Distinguished Lecture Series sponsored by the UK Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce with the support of the UK College of Arts and Sciences' Blazer Lecture Fund.

"Everywhere Mr. Ford went he was greeted with typical Bluegrass hospitality and genuine respect and affection," noted Dr. Vince Davis, director of the UK Patterson School. "He expressed to me many times over his appreciation for the wonderful time and tremendous reception accorded him by the University and the Lexington community.

"He'll certainly be a tough act for the next Cooper lecturer to follow."

Photos by Bill Wells

President Ford meets with UK students in Patterson tower seminars . . .

. . . and with Dr. Singletary at Spindletop

With Albert Clay, center, and Mr. Cooper

Vince Davis presents Mr. Ford a briefcase

John Smith, Mike Adelstein, and Homer Ramsey

CAMPUS BULLETIN BOARD

For sale: 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, family room with fireplace. Professionally decorated. Attached garage with extra storage area. Near Lexington Tennis Club, Lansdowne Elementary. Heat pump. $65,000. Call 272-5956 evenings only.

For sale: Gainesway, ranch, w/w carpeting, 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, paneled family room, newly remodeled kitchen, walk-in pantry, new dishwasher, fenced-in backyard. Walk to shopping and schools. $38,000. 272-1521 after 5 p.m. weekdays.

For sale: Gardenside, 3-bedroom ranch, 1½ baths, large family room, recreation room or 4th bedroom, dining room, fireplace, carpeted, appliances, central air, fenced yard, covered patio, low utilities. $44,500. 277-4986.

For sale: 3558 Brookview Dr. Near Southern Elementary and Jr. schools, established area, fenced yard, A/C, 1½ baths, 1800 sq. ft. $33,000; $3,000 down; owner will finance at 8½%. 277-5937 after 5 p.m.

For sale: 2-story, 4-bedroom,

1½-bath house in small subdivision near UK. Storm windows, carpeting, appliances, fireplace, beautiful yard and garden, attached garage. 7% assumable loan. $49,500. 259-0106.

For sale: Gardenside, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, dining room, 2 fireplaces, walkout basement, 4th bedroom or den in basement, gas heat, garage. $46,000. 277-2590 after 5 p.m. Available July.

For sale: Lansdowne Merrick (Montavesta). 3-bedroom ranch, 2 baths, country kitchen with fireplace, dining room, attached 2-car garage, gas heat, A/C, landscaped lot with mature arched trees. Asking $64,750. 266-3892.

Wanted to buy: small house within walking distance of campus. Phone 258-8716, 252-2944.

Wanted to rent: female faculty seeks room in house or apartment June 15, or July 1 thru Aug. 15. Prefer to share but will house sit. Prefer reasonable rent. 257-3175 or 276-1048.

Wanted to rent: 3-bedroom furnished apartment, townhouse or house required for University faculty member, mid-August thru mid-December. Call University 8-2935; or home 272-3117.

Wanted to rent: beginning mid-June to July 1, 3-bedroom house, dining room, moderate to large living room, or 2-bedroom house with den or office. Reasonable rent. Call 277-9210 after 5:30 p.m.

UK PROFILE

By PAUL OWENS

Some would say it's a long way from Hill 373 in Korea to the second floor of the Mathews Building on the University of Kentucky campus, where James P. Alcorn (Colonel, U.S. Army, retired) directs the UK Placement Service.

But in comparative frenzy, the distance could be a straight line and shorter than one might think, as managers of people-oriented service agencies—whether educational, governmental, or entrepreneurial—would agree.

The UK Placement Service gets pretty hectic sometimes. There are days when a "traffic director" has to steer to the proper interview rooms what often amounts to a deluge of students and interviewers bent on getting together as employer-employee.

Through the Placement Service, students and alumni can schedule job interviews with representatives of business, government agencies, schools and colleges, and others seeking employees. The Service sends resumes to prospective employers, and candidates for jobs are recommended to them.

Alcorn's road to a Silver Star for battle action on Hill 373 near Paegwol-li, Korea, began in 1939, when he received his A.B. degree at UK and was commissioned an Army lieutenant after completing the ROTC program. He took a job in Louisville with Gulf Oil Company. Then came December 7, 1941. The next month he was in uniform and assigned as an instructor to Ft. Benning, Ga., where he stayed two years.

By the summer of 1943, he was a company commander on maneuvers at Camp McCall, N.C. When he got to Europe early in 1945, there was little time for action before the war ended. He returned to New York City for the victory parade down confetti-strewn streets.

Alcorn resumed his job with Gulf, as the company representative in Eastern Kentucky, but resigned after six months to work with the Veterans Administration, helping to administer Public Law 346 for the benefit of veterans returning to school on the GI Bill.

In July 1947, he accepted a regular Army commission as a major and following the company commander's course and advisor to the UK cheerleading squad. He has been advisor to Student Government and was on the board of Spindletop Hall. He has been president of the Lexington Lions Club and served the Lions as district governor. He was on the Lexington Fayette County Merger Planning Committee.

Alcorn and his wife, Ruth, have two grown children and one granddaughter. Daughter Jan is married and living in Chattanooga, and son Jim has hopes of attending dental school. The Alcorns are active in Southern Hills Methodist Church, and there is a little time for golf.

The most frustrating aspect of his job: sometimes not being able to communicate quickly enough to those people served by the Placement Service.

The most pleasing: "... helping people. I enjoy helping people more than anything else I do."

Which probably comes natural to the Lee County native whose efforts on behalf of others won for him that Silver Star back there on Hill 373 in Korea.

JAMES P. ALCORN

at Ft. Knox was sent to Korea, serving near Seoul. In 1949, his 20th Army Corps left that country for Hawaii, but was ordered back to Korea in July 1950. This time Alcorn saw plenty of action, and received a battlefield promotion to lieutenant colonel. Besides the Silver Star, Alcorn won the Bronze Star for valor near Pongom-ni.

In every sense of the term, Alcorn has been a civilian ever since he retired from the Army as a full colonel in 1966. He doesn't read military history, and he isn't given to relating war experiences when friends gather. If he admires any military man of history, it might be General Robert E. Lee, "but maybe that's because we share January 29 as our birthday."

Further evidence of his integration into civilian society are his numerous University and community activities. He is on the UK commencement committee, sergeant-at-arms at-large to the UK Senate

Communi-K is published by the University of Kentucky and printed with state funds during the academic year for the entire UK community and friends of the University. It is published weekly except during the following holiday weeks: Nov. 22 (Thanksgiving week); Dec. 13, 20, 27, Jan. 3, 10 (Christmas holiday); and March 15 (Spring vacation week). Second class postage paid at the Post Office, Lexington, Ky. 40511. Office of publication: University Information Services, Room 4, Mathews Building, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. 40506. Postmaster: Please send Form 3579 to above address.

Editor
DAVID HOLT
Assistant Editor
TOM LOOMER

Director, Information Services
BERNIE VONDERHEIDE
Vice President for University Relations
DR. RAYMOND R. HORNBACK

At Wenner-Gren Laboratory

UK doing research on pilot ejection from aircraft

By AVERY JENKINS

The University of Kentucky Wenner-Gren Laboratory has received a $40,071 research contract to study the problem of spinal injuries to Air Force pilots who have ejected from their aircraft.

Dr. James Lafferty, director of the laboratory, part of the UK College of Engineering, says that pilots sometimes sustain spinal injuries when ejecting themselves in emergency situations from high speed aircraft. The contract is with the U.S. Air Force.

"A study on 225 ejections from airplanes found that 20 per cent of the pilots sustained damage to their spines. The spine has to take the primary load. When the pilots ejects himself he is subjected to high gravity, or 'G', force and experiences tumbling and high wind blast," Lafferty said.

Lafferty said the average person can withstand about 25 G's in static, or very slow, loading situations without serious spinal injury. This means he can take about 25 times his normal weight.

"Actually, the structure of bone is ideal. It has a hard outer layer and a 'honeycomb' interior. This makes for a very well designed structure when you consider strength to weight ratio.

"Of course, there is a limit to what bones can stand before they break. Bones can take more weight at high impact than they can at a slow, steady build up of pressure.

The limits of bone strength at high impact—such as pilot ejection—is what Lafferty's research is all about.

Lafferty explained that most pilots who are injured receive damage at the junction of the lumbar and thoracic spine. This is the lower middle of the back near the last rib.

"For the pilot to eject from a disabled airplane he has to set off a rocket device. This device blows off the canopy and hurls the pilot into space. He will experience some tumbling and flailing of the limbs," Lafferty said.

"We will be conducting various tests on bones to try and determine the limits of bone strength under these impact loading situations. Using a hydraulic piston test system, our tests will begin at very slow speeds and progress, to very fast. We'll do shear stress and torsional stress in addition to the impact tests."

The tests will be made on spines taken

Dr. James Lafferty uses this hydraulic piston system in his research work at Wenner-Gren lab. The UK laboratory has a research contract to study the problem of spinal injuries to Air Force pilots who have ejected from their aircraft.

from monkeys that have died in other laboratories. Several labs have agreed to send monkey spines to the UK facility.

Test information obtained at UK and from other laboratories will help to find the optimum ejection seat design and the best ejection system, Lafferty said. Other institutions are working on separate phases of the spinal injury problem.

Data obtained in the studies will also be made available to the General Motors auto crash study program.

Journalism honors Towles

Donald B. Towles, vice president and director of public affairs for the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, will be honored for his achievements in journalism at the annual University of Kentucky Journalism Alumni Dinner on Friday, April 22.

The dinner will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Holiday Inn North, following a reception which begins at 6:30.

Reservations must be made with the UK School of Journalism by Tuesday, April 19. Call (606) 258-2786 for reservations, which are $6.50 per person.

UK Printing Services wins national award

University of Kentucky Printing Services has won a national award for typographic excellence.

The National Composition Association presented a second place award to the cold composition section of Printing Services in "recognition of an outstanding example of excellence in typographic design, layout, readability and clarity."

The award was for the typographic work in "The Franciscan Concept of Mission in the High Middle Ages," by E. Randolph Daniel of the UK History Department.

Sharon Clemmons is supervisor of the cold composition section. Edward L. Swift Jr., is manager of UK Printing Services, and John W. Barker is associate manager.

UK researchers study strip mine revegetation

By AVERY JENKINS

Determination of how coal companies can best revegetate strip mined land is the objective of a research program being conducted in Bell County by the University of Kentucky Department of Forestry.

"We want to determine the cost of different methods and try to find the best ways to stabilize the strip mined area," says Dr. Don Graves, assistant professor of forestry.

Graves and Dr. Stan B. Carpenter, associate professor of forestry, head a research effort that includes Dr. Robert Wittwer, assistant professor of forestry, and representatives of the UK Institute for Mining and Minerals Research. The work is being supported by federal and state funds.

"One of the things we want to determine is certain levels of cost and what the coal operator can get for the money he spends on reclamation. For example, if he wants to spend $200 per acre, we want to be able to tell him what he can reasonably expect to accomplish in revegetation for that amount of money," Graves said.

He said there are numerous possibilities for future use of strip mined lands. The leveled-off mountain tops could become industrial building sites in the future. The sites could be used for housing.

"With the addition of trees, streets, sidewalks, and utilities, these areas would be quite different from what people see today," Graves added.

"We'd like to find the best and fastest ways to return this land to commercial use. Apple trees are being planted on test plots at the Mountain Drive Coal Co. site at Colmar. The company reclaimed 1,500 acres in 1976. We're looking into the feasibility of growing Christmas trees on reclaimed land," Graves said.

Mountain Drive Coal Co. was host recently for a field day sponsored by the UK Department of Forestry in cooperation with numerous commercial suppliers of mulch and mulch spreading equipment.

Demonstrations included the use of agricultural lime, a mulch of field hay, a mulch of commercial waste, and a mulch of bark and sawmill waste. All of these have potential when used on strip mined land. Mulches are essential to help retain soil moisture and foster the growth of grasses, legumes and tree seedlings, Graves stated.

The field day also included reports by the researchers and their graduate students in forestry at UK. Reports included the partial or complete success achieved with 72 test plots that have been planted at the Mountain Drive mining site since March 1976.

Dr. Don Graves, right, UK assistant professor of forestry, discusses mulch spreading on strip mined land near Middlesboro with Jack Dingman, of Beverly Hills, Calif., whose company produces a commercial mulch from reclaimed waste.

CAMPUS BULLETIN BOARD

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Apr. 18

Seminar, "Geological Factors in Coal Exploration and Development," by John C. Ferm, University of South Carolina, 3 p.m., Rm 257, Anderson Hall. Refreshments at 2:30. Sponsored by Department of Geology and Institute for Mining and Minerals Research.

Awards Night, sponsored by the Student Center Board, 7 p.m., Student Center Ballroom.

Lecture, "Collective Bargaining in Higher Education," by Dr. Kenneth Mortimer, Pennsylvania State University, 3 p.m., faculty lounge, Dickey Hall. Free and open to the public.

Apr. 19

Concert by French folk singer Serge Kervel, 8:15 p.m., Seay Auditorium, Agr. Science Center. Admission $1.50. Sponsored by Alliance Francaise.

Lecture, "Tax Policy in the 1970s," by B. Kenneth Sanden, Price Waterhouse & Co., New York, 2 p.m., Rm 108, Commerce Bldg. Distinguished Speaker Series sponsored by Department of Accounting.

Physics colloquium, 4 p.m., Rm 155, Chem-Physics Bldg. Dr. Lewis E. Snyder, University of Illinois, will speak on "Radio Observation of Comets."

Seminar, "Teaching Anatomy on the Living," by Dr. Cornelius Rosse, University of Washington School of Medicine and Visiting Professor, Department of Anatomy, 3:30 p.m., Rm MN-136, Med Center.

Colloquium, "Introduction to TOTAL, A Data Base Management System," by John T. Danilson, Cincom Systems, Inc., Cincinnati, 2-4 p.m., Rm 201, Commerce Bldg.

Presented by department of computer science.

Apr. 20

Lecture by Tony Randall, 8:15 p.m., Memorial Coliseum. Central Kentucky Concert and Lecture Series. Open to season members and UK students with activities and ID cards.

Lecture by Kentucky Attorney-General Robert Stephens, Noon, Law School courtroom. Free and open to the public. Sponsored by Student Bar Association.

Don Redlich Dance Company, 8 p.m., Lexington Opera House. Admission $3 and $4; UK students $2 with ID cards. Tickets available Rm 203, Student Center and all Dawahare's locations. Presented by Student Center Board in cooperation with the National Endowment for the Arts and Kentucky Arts Commission.

Seminar, "Legal Rights and Responsibilities of Women," with Carolyn Bratt, College of Law, Noon-1 p.m., Alumni Gym lounge. Sponsored by Continuing Education for Women.

Baseball, UK vs Louisville, 3 p.m., Shively Sports Center field. Admission: adults $1; students 50 cents. UK full-time students free with ID cards.

Toxicology seminar, "The PBB Disaster in Michigan," by Dr. Douglas Rickert, Michigan State University, 3 p.m., Rm MN-520, Med Center.

AAUP Chapter meeting, 4 p.m., Rm 206, Student Center.

Industrial coal conference, "Coal Energy for Maximum Usage," Carnahan House. Also Apr. 21. For information, call Robert G. Figg, 257-3861.

Public lecture, "How Mothers and Fathers Perceive the Social Behavior of Sons and Daughters: A Cognitive Approach to Socialization," by Dr. Margaret K. Bacon, department of anthropology, Rutgers University, 8 p.m., Rm 242, Classroom Bldg.

Apr. 21

Labor Theatre presents "Singly None, An Evening with John L. Lewis," 8 p.m., Seay Auditorium, Agr. Science Center. Free and open to the public. Sponsored by Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Center for Labor Education and Research, and the Appalachian Center.

Public lecture, "Romans on the Bay of Naples: Recent Excavations and Discoveries," by George W. Houston, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, 8 p.m., Rm 114, Classroom Bldg. Sponsored by the Graduate School and the Department of Classical Languages.

Apr. 22

UK All-night Theatre, 15 plays in various areas of the Fine Arts Bldg. beginning at 10 p.m. and lasting until dawn, with breakfast served for the survivors. Free admission. For information, call 257-2797.

Recital, Music in the Gallery, American women composers presented by Sigma Alpha Iota music sorority, Noon, gallery, special collections department, King Library North. Free and open to the public.

Baseball, UK vs Florida (doubleheader), 2 p.m., Shively Sports Center field. Admission: adults $1, students 50 cents. UK full-time students free with ID cards.

Symposium on new U.S. copyright law, 10 a.m.-5 p.m., Student Center Theatre. Fee $15. Presented by College of Library Science Office of Continuing Education, For information call 257-1734.

Deadline for reservations for Phi

Beta Kappa banquet at Spindletop Hall, 7 p.m., Apr. 26. Speaker: Dr. William W. Kelly, president of Transylvania University. Call Dr. Mary Lynn Flowers, 257-3191.

Apr. 23

Children's musical theatre, "The Incredible Jungle Journey of Fenda Maria," an African fantasy, presented by the LaMont Zeno Theatre, Chicago. Two performances in Guignol Theatre, Fine Arts Bldg. 3 p.m., children's matinee; 8 p.m., for general public. Admission $1.25; 75 cents for children. Sponsored by Office of Minority Student Affairs.

Baseball, UK vs Florida, 2 p.m., Shively Sports Center field. Admission: adults $1, students 50 cents. UK full-time students free with ID cards.

Concert, Brandenburg Concertos of J.S. Bach performed by members of Lexington Philharmonic, Dr. George Zack conducting, 7:30 p.m., Memorial Hall. For benefit of Central Kentucky Youth Orchestras. Tickets $4 (patron tickets $10). Tickets available Fred Moore Music, MRS Foodtown in Southland, and at door. For information call Mrs. John Shaw, 269-2485.

Apr. 24

Baseball, UK vs Bellarmine (doubleheader), 2 p.m., Shively Sports Center field. Admission: adults $1, students 50 cents. UK full-time students free with ID cards.

Concert, University Symphonic Band, Harry Clarke conducting, 3 p.m., Memorial Hall. Free and open to the public.

Apr. 25

Library Associates dinner meeting, 6:15 p.m., Spindletop Hall. Elizabeth Hardwick, speaker; music by LaMay String Quartet. Reservation $9; call 258-2651. Open to the public.

Opera performances cancelled

The opera workshop performances, originally scheduled for Apr. 21 and 22, and then changed to Apr. 18 and 19, have now been cancelled.

Teaching Award for TA's

The Office of the Dean of Undergraduate Studies is inviting nominations for the 1977 TA Teaching Award from departments who employ graduate teaching assistants.

To be eligible for consideration, the TA must have had major responsibility for classroom or laboratory activity for at least two full semesters. No department may nominate more than two of its teaching assistants.

For questions regarding eligibility or supporting materials, call 257-1727. Deadline for receipt of nominations is Apr. 27.

Woman's Club news

Tuesday, Apr. 19, 10 a.m. sewing group, home of Mrs. Ernest Yanarella, 249 St. Margaret Drive; call 269-4959 if you plan to attend.

8 p.m., evening book group, home of Merry Lu Prior, 2341 Southwest Drive; "Three" by Flannery O'Connor.

Thursday, Apr. 21, 10 a.m. daytime bridge group at Woman's Club, 210 North Broadway. Call Mrs. David Stockham (277-6329) or Mrs. G.W. Schneider (277-6250) on Monday if you intend to play bridge.

Friday, Apr. 22, 9:30 a.m. golf lessons will begin at Tates Creek Golf Course; $2.50 per lesson for six lessons.

Annual spring luncheon, Spindletop Hall, Noon, Tuesday, Apr. 26. Theme: "Spring is Here," with fashions by Embry's. Officers will be installed. For information on reservations call Mrs. George Coltharp, 272-8858. Guests of club members welcome.

Housing for faculty, staff

All housing listed herein is for rent or sale without regard to the applicant's race, creed or national origin.

For rent: 3-bedroom brick house in Garden Springs. Fenced-in backyard. Available on or before May 1. Rent $220/month. Call 252-1849 from 1-9 p.m.

For rent: sublet spacious older 3-bedroom house near Chevy Chase for 13 months beginning July 1. Partially furnished. $210 per month plus utilities. Call 266-2578 evenings.

For rent: house available, middle of June to end of August, 2 bedrooms, central air conditioning, garden area, basement. Kingsway Drive. $150/month plus utilities. Call 266-0638 after 6 p.m.

For rent: June and July; 2-3 bedroom furnished house, large family kitchen, bath, fenced yard, garage, walking distance to University. $300/month + utilities. 269-2853.

For rent: Aug. '77-May '78, 2-bedroom house in Chevy Chase, fully furnished, with study, basement and garage, within walking distance from campus, on bus route. $275/month. Call 257-1549 or 266-8295.

For rent: two 3-bedroom houses, South end. Brick, fenced. Available May 1 and June 1. $235/mo. and $290/mo. Close to schools. One-year lease. 277-5937 after 5 p.m.

For sale: split foyer, Park Hills, natural limestone, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, family room, fireplace, heat pump, humidifier, 2844 Mt. McKinley Way. $48,500, by appointment only 272-0140.

For sale: 3 bedrooms + den or 4th bedroom, 1680 sq. ft., newly redecorated, 2-car garage, corner lot, excellent condition. 3338 Coldstream Drive, Gainesway. $49,500. 272-5650, 258-2840.

For sale: Twin Oaks ranch-style home; 4 bedrooms, bath, kitchen-dining area, living room, family room, utility room, large fenced yard. Near schools, churches, UK. $37,000. 277-0418.

For sale: ten miles south of Circle Road 4; 3 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, studio room, fireplace, heat pump. Quiet, rural setting with neighbors, 5 acres, fruit trees, small horse barn. $78,000. 885-3235.

(Additional items on page 2)

PATTERSON SCHOOL Newsletter

The University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky 40506 U.S.A.
(606) 257-4666

Spring 1978

Vincent Davis, Director
Patterson School Professor
of International Studies

TO: Patterson School Board of Advisors (BOA), Alumni and Friends
FROM: Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce

Plan now to attend Our Spring '78 BOA Meetings

The BOA Spring '78 meetings are set for April 13 - 16, again at super-beautiful Lake Cumberland Resort, as announced in our Summer-Fall '77 newsletter distributed last August. We're enclosing reservation forms for all BOA members, and for special guests we've contacted. Please return these forms to us immediately.

Any alumni and other friends who would like to inquire about participating in these April meetings are invited to contact us at once.

All of those participating in the spring '78 BOA meetings should arrive in Lexington not later than 8 p.m. Thursday, April 13, for the ride down to the resort—except those who plan to go by private transportation. We will try to hold back sufficient wagons to accommodate those on incoming flights arriving in Lexington about 10 p.m., but we will need to have planning information as soon as possible from anticipated “stragglers.”

The first event, an informal buffet at the Vince Davis home, will start late Thursday afternoon, April 13, and continue until departure for Lake Cumberland. The primary meetings at the resort Friday-Saturday will follow our customary format, utilizing BOA members and special VIP guests for panel presentations followed by general discussion from the floor. All sessions will be in plenary, as usual.

Ample opportunities for leisure and social events will be scheduled including, golf, tennis, hiking, improvised ball games, and boat rides on the lake, weather permitting. In case we fail to get our typically beautiful spring weather, you may want to pack a sweater or windbreaker plus a light raincoat. Attire will be extremely informal at all times.

Private reserve stocks can accommodate most tastes at the social hours, but those with special exotic preferences in “potables” should pack on a BYOL basis, especially in view of the fact that the nearest “wet” county is about 100 miles away.

Note: We will return to Lexington about noon on Sunday, April 16. It will be very difficult for us to assist people in catching flights departing from Lexington prior to that time, but let us know immediately if this is a problem. Remember: Lexington is on Eastern Time while Lake Cumberland Resort is on Central Time.

Special options: Anyone desiring to arrive early, in order to join us in events scheduled on Wednesday, April 12, with our longtime BOA member Admiral Stansfield Turner (see the accompanying item on Turner) and/or to go to the races at Keeneland on Thursday afternoon, April 13, should contact us immediately.

R.S.V.P.: In any case, please communicate with us at once on your plans if you are a BOA member or special invited guest—regardless as to whether your reply is yes, no, or maybe. We need this information now for planning purposes. Thanks!

Comptons and other Fellowships

We are very pleased that the Compton Foundation of New York City has renewed for 1978 - 79 a grant of an additional $10,000 for two Compton Fellowships for talented students from minority group backgrounds, thanks in substantial measure to the good offices of our BOA charter member Kenneth W. Thompson.

Otherwise, we have received an underwhelming response to the pleas in our earlier Summer-Fall '77 newsletter for assistance in raising new funds for our fellowship account. Although our Patterson School staff is badly overworked, let us assure one and all that we can somehow find time to receive, process and gratefully acknowledge all contributions to our fellowship fund.

Ambassador Bolen-- First Cooper Lecturer for 1978

David B. Bolen, who succeeded Kentucky's own and esteemed John Sherman Cooper as the second U. S. Ambassador to East Germany (or, more officially the German Democratic Republic) in the late summer of 1977, was our first John Sherman Cooper Distinguished Lecturer for 1978. With great and greatly appreciated support from the U. S. Department of State, including valuable assistance from Mr. Victor Gray in his position as the GDR Desk Officer, Ambassador Bolen flew directly from Berlin to Lexington on February 14, remaining on campus until February 17.

Ambassador Bolen's Cooper Lecture on Thursday evening, February 16, was formally titled, "East Germany in a Rapidly Changing World," or—as one of our students put it somewhat less formally—"Survival on the Front Lines of an Old Cold War." Earlier that day he gave a short luncheon talk to approximately 350 members of the Greater Lexington Rotary Club on the subject of commercial and trade relationships between the United States and East Germany.

In addition, he led an informal seminar with UK faculty and students, talked in particular to several varsity athletes, met with the press, was guest of honor at a small reception, and was the guest of Lexington Mayor James Amato at the basketball game between the universities of Kentucky and Tennessee on February 15.

Ambassador Bolen, a native of Louisiana, served in the U. S. Army Air Corps during World War II, and afterwards attended the University of Colorado where he earned the B.S.

and M.S. degrees. During his years at Colorado he achieved international fame as a great track star, including membership on the '48 U. S. Olympic Track Team and four AAU All-Star Track Teams. The University of Colorado created in his honor the "Dave Bolen Olympic Award" in 1949, subsequently conferred upon any University of Colorado student or alumnus participating on an Olympic team.

Additionally, the University of Colorado in 1976 named him one of 12 "Alumni of the Century" (out of a total of several thousand alumni) in connection with the Colorado State Centennial. That elite group of 12 also included notables such as Associate Justice Byron "Whizzer" White, U. S. Supreme Court, who graduated from Colorado in 1938. A Rhodes Scholar, Justice White, after winning the Heisman Trophy, went on to an all-star pro football career and later distinguished himself as a public servant.

Ambassador Bolen, who earned the M.P.A. degree from Harvard in addition to his Colorado degrees, began his career in the U. S. Foreign Service in 1950, and has held a variety of important assignments often emphasizing economic and commercial matters with respect to countries in Europe and Africa. He was Assistant Secretary of State for Africa prior to assuming his current duties as U. S. Ambassador to the German Democratic Republic, and has previously served as ambassador to three other countries.

The Patterson School inaugurated the John Sherman Cooper Distinguished Lectures series in 1977 with visits to the campus by former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and former President Gerald R. Ford.

BOA Meetings for the 1978-79 Academic Year

In accordance with decisions reached at BOA meetings during the 1977 - 78 academic year, we will shift to a regularized new format in 1978 - 79. The annual Fall Semester meeting will be our standard full-scale production at Lake Cumberland Resort, designed in part to welcome our new incoming class of students.

The schedule will call for arrival in Lexington on Thursday afternoon or evening, then Friday and Saturday at the lake, and departure on Sunday. The annual Spring Semester meeting will be on a reduced scale here in Lexington, starting at noon on a Friday to allow Friday morning arrivals, and ending at noon on Saturday. The Keeneland races will be offered as an option.

Mark these dates on your calendar now for these BOA meetings for the 1978 - 79 academic year:

Fall '78: Thursday, September 28 - Sunday, October 1

Spring '79: Friday-Saturday, April 6 - 7, 1979, in Lexington

Admiral Turner--

Second Cooper Lecturer

Admiral Stansfield Turner, U. S. Navy, who since early 1977 has been serving as President Carter's Director of Central Intelligence and also as Director of the C.I.A., is scheduled to arrive on Wednesday morning, April 12, for a full day of events arranged by the Patterson School.

The day will include a luncheon talk to the Lexington Lions Club, a press conference, a private seminar meeting with Patterson School students, a private dinner meeting with BOA members and other specially invited friends, and then his public address as one of our two John Sherman Cooper Distinguished Lecturers for 1978. The lecture will be held at 7:15 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Student Center.

Admiral Turner, a BOA charter member, made two separate trips to Lexington for Patterson School events several years ago, but has been unable to join us again in more recent years because of burdensome duties primarily outside of the United States. Unfortunately, his heavy schedule of commitments will not allow him to remain for the BOA meetings April 13 - 16. However, any BOA member or BOA special guest is welcome to arrive in Lexington one day early (April 12) in order to attend the small private dinner with Admiral Turner and to hear his lecture that evening. Please contact us immediately to work out the necessary arrangements.

Admiral Turner graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1946, standing number 25 in his class of about 800. At Annapolis, he served as Midshipman Commander of the Brigade of Midshipmen. Two earlier years of his collegiate career were spent at Amherst College. A native of Highland Park, Ill., he was a Rhodes Scholar in the Master's Degree Program in philosophy, politics and economics at Oxford University following his graduation from the Naval Academy. Later, he graduated from the Advanced Management Program at the Harvard Business School, and during these middle years of his career he also served in a number of distinguished command billets at sea.

After promotion to rear admiral, he served during 1971 - 72 as Director of the Navy's Office of Systems Analysis. Then, as a vice admiral, he was named the 36th President of the Naval War College, serving in this position from 1972 - 74.

Finally, with the new fourth star of a full admiral, he served during 1975 - 77 as Commander-in-Chief of NATO Forces Southern Europe with headquarters in Naples, Italy, immediately prior to assuming his current position for President Carter in early March of 1977.

Further details on Admiral Turner can be found in cover stories in both Time and Newsweek magazines for the week of February 6, and in almost any daily newspaper.

Accomplishments of Patterson Students and Alumni

The following students completed all of our degree requirements for graduation in December 1977: Nicole Barjonnet, Rebecca Bennett, Kathy Boyd, Susan Burkhardt, Carol Goodloe, Kurt Kreznar, Larry Perkins, Bruce Reynolds, Albie Stein, and Karen Williams.

Most of these recent graduates, hampered somewhat by severe winter weather, are still engaged in the job search process, in many cases pursuing strong leads with interviews and other forms of contact in Washington, New York and elsewhere.

Two, however, have already succeeded in nailing down attractive positions: Kathy Boyd, who has been sent on a trip to the Philippines by her new employers at the U. S. Agency for International Development (AID) in Washington; and Karen Williams, who is beginning her career in international banking with the Mellon Bank of Pittsburgh. (Another recent alumna of two years ago, Susan Weiner, is with the international department of Pittsburgh National Bank.)

The following students earned "straight-A" or 4.0 averages in Fall Semester '77: Donald Kazee, Larry Perkins and Howard Widis. Moreover, when all fall '77 grades have been reported, there is reason to expect that the following will also be added to this 4.0 list for last semester: Daniel Bon, Paul Carpenter, Paul Marttila and Lisa Zahniser.

The students in our new class are now engaged in the search for good internship opportunities for summer '78. Immediate help from BOA members, alumni and friends would be highly welcome and most appreciated. Although a few attractive internships have already been confirmed, others are greatly needed. Results of the summer '78 internship activities will be reported in the next (fall '78) issue of this newsletter.

WORLDVIEW '78 Slated for Mid-March

WORLDVIEW, a two-day institute, has become one of the most important events on the Patterson School's annual calendar, co-sponsored and co-hosted by the Greater Lexington Rotary Club and approximately 35 other Rotary Clubs within an area of roughly 100 miles in radius around Lexington.

The primary day—this year March 17—is designed to attract senior high school honor students and adults from the general community and to enhance their knowledge on crucial issues pertaining to foreign affairs and international relations.

The theme for WORLDVIEW '78 is: "How to be Intelligent about Intelligence."

We are greatly pleased to welcome home a distinguished native son of the Blue Grass region of Kentucky, Scott B. Breckinridge, as the featured keynote speaker for WORLDVIEW '78.

He graduated from the University of Kentucky with a law degree, and then practiced law in the Lexington area in partnership with his brother John B. Breckinridge (currently U. S. Representative from the 6th Congressional District of Kentucky, and one of our BOA charter members) for a few years prior to World War II.

Following wartime service as an officer in the U. S. Navy,

Scott Breckinridge for most of the past 30 years has held a number of highly responsible positions in a career with the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency. In 1976 - 77, serving as the Agency's Deputy Inspector General, he was in most respects the Agency's key day-to-day liaison officer working with the U. S. Senate Select Committee on Intelligence in that Committee's efforts to draft new legislation guiding the American intelligence system. (A key member of that Committee was and is a good friend of the Patterson School, Senator Walter "Dee" Huddleston of Kentucky.)

In June 1977, Admiral Stansfield Turner, as Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, conferred on Scott Breckinridge that organization's highest award and honor for distinguished career service.

WORLDVIEW '78 also includes a number of able and prominent younger civilian officials and military officers knowledgeable about issues pertaining to intelligence. One of these is a Patterson School alumnus, Roger J. LeMaster, an attorney currently serving as Legislative Counsel to Senator Huddleston. These younger VIP guests fill roles as panelists and seminar discussion leaders on the WORLDVIEW program.

A thanks to Mr. Volcker for his November visit

The Patterson School was extremely pleased to be visited for a guest lecture on Thursday, November 10, 1977, by the eminent Paul A. Volcker, President of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and during 1969 - 74 the Under Secretary of the Treasury, speaking on the topic "Challenges for International Economic Policy."

Instrumental in arranging his visit with us was our BOA charter member J. Dewey Daane, former Governor of the Federal Reserve and now Vice Chairman of the Board of Tennessee Valley Bancorp in Nashville. The rumor mill in Washington tabs Mr. Volcker as the odds-on choice to be the next President of the World Bank, succeeding Robert S. McNamara.

Paul A. Volcker, the lanky 6-foot 7-inch cigar-smoking President of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, is one of the most experienced players . . . on the pitted and muddy playing fields of international finance . . . heads what traditionally has been regarded as the most prestigious Federal Reserve Bank . . . that rarest of creatures, a central banker willing to speak his mind clearly on the issues of the day in public.

—The New York Times

Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce
University of Kentucky
1665 Patterson Office Tower
Lexington, Kentucky 40506

U. S. POSTAGE
PAID
Non-Profit Org.
Permit No. 51
Lexington, KY

STAN TURNER

wa

The University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky 40506 U.S.A.
(606) 257-4666

Vince
Vincent Davis, Director
Patterson Chair Professor
of International Studies

ANNOUNCING:A PANEL DISCUSSION ON THE UNITED STATES INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY"Can the U.S. Intelligence Community Get Its Act Together?"*Thursday, March 16, 3:00 - 5:30 p.m.*President's Room, U.K. Student Center*Panel Participants:

- SCOTT D. BRECKINRIDGE, JR., Deputy Inspector General, Central Intelligence Agency
- EMERSON M. BROWN, Assistant Deputy Director, Bureau of Intelligence and Research, U.S. Department of State
- ALLAN E. GOODMAN, Assistant National Intelligence Officer for Political Economy, Office of the Director of Central Intelligence
- ROGER LEMASTER, Legislative Counsel to Kentucky Senator Walter D. Huddleston
- MAJOR WARREN H. MILBERG, U.S.A.F., Office of Policy and Planning, Intelligence Community Staff, Office of the Director of Central Intelligence.
- MAJOR WILLIAM C. RENNAGEL, U.S. ARMY, Military Assistant to the Director of Net Assessment, Office of the Secretary of Defense
- GEORGE WILSON III, Intelligence Specialist, U.S. Naval Reserve; Executive Vice President, Kentucky Automotive Wholesalers Association LCDR
- VINCENT DAVIS, Director of the Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce

THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND!

The University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky 40506 U.S.A.
(606) 257-4666

Vincent Davis, Director
Patterson Chair Professor
of International Studies

ANNOUNCING:

WORLDVIEW 1978

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

"NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE FOR THE PRESENT AND FUTURE"

by

SCOTT D. BRECKINRIDGE, JR.
DEPUTY INSPECTOR GENERAL
CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

Friday, March 17, 9:30 a.m.
Main Ballroom, U.K. Student Center

*****

Mr. Breckinridge is a distinguished alumnus of the University of Kentucky with a long and admirable record of service in the American intelligence community. His service began in 1953 when he joined the Office of Current Intelligence, where his duties involved briefings for White House staff members as well as a variety of other intelligence matters. After serving abroad for two years as liaison with a foreign government on defense matters, Mr. Breckinridge returned to Washington to serve as a staff officer responsible for special intelligence matters. Following a year as a Senior Intelligence Officer, he was assigned to the Office of the Inspector General in 1962. In 1973 he became Deputy Inspector General of the CIA.

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND A SYMPOSIUM

CAN THE U.S. INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY GET ITS ACT TOGETHER?

THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1978

3 - 5:30 p.m.

President's Room, Student Center
University of Kentucky

PARTICIPANTS

SCOTT D. BRECKINRIDGE JR.
Deputy Inspector General
Central Intelligence Agency

EMERSON M. BROWN
Assistant Deputy Director
Bureau of Intelligence and Research
Department of State

VINCENT DAVIS
Director
Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce

ALLAN E. GOODMAN
Assistant National Intelligence Officer
for Political Economy
Central Intelligence Agency

ROGER J. LEMASTER
Legislative Counsel to Senator Walter
D. Huddelston

MAJOR WARREN H. MILBERG
U.S. Air Force
Intelligence Community Staff

MAJOR WILLIAM C. RENNAGEL
Military Assistant to the Director of Net Assessment
Office of the Secretary of Defense

GEORGE W. WILSON
Lieutenant Commander
U.S. Naval Reserve
Intelligence Specialist

Sponsored by the Patterson School of Diplomacy and International Commerce

The University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky 40506 U.S.A.
(606) 257-4666

Vincent Davis, Director
Patterson Chair Professor
of International Studies

ANNOUNCING:

WORLDVIEW 1978

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

"NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE FOR THE PRESENT AND FUTURE"

by

SCOTT D. BRECKINRIDGE, JR.
DEPUTY INSPECTOR GENERAL
CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

Friday, March 17, 9:30 a.m.
Main Ballroom, U.K. Student Center

*****

Mr. Breckinridge is a distinguished alumnus of the University of Kentucky with a long and admirable record of service in the American intelligence community. His service began in 1953 when he joined the Office of Current Intelligence, where his duties involved briefings for White House staff members as well as a variety of other intelligence matters. After serving abroad for two years as liaison with a foreign government on defense matters, Mr. Breckinridge returned to Washington to serve as a staff officer responsible for special intelligence matters. Following a year as a Senior Intelligence Officer, he was assigned to the Office of the Inspector General in 1962. In 1973 he became Deputy Inspector General of the CIA.

The University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky 40506 U.S.A.
(606) 257-4666

Vincent Davis, Director
Patterson Chair Professor
of International Studies

WORLDVIEW 1978

FEBRUARY 1978

BEING INTELLIGENT ABOUT INTELLIGENCE:

THE ROLE OF U.S. INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES IN THE MODERN WORLD

SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. "Shaping Tomorrow's CIA," TIME, February 6, 1978, pp. 10-26.
2. "The CIA: How Badly Hurt?", by Tom Mathews, et.al., NEWSWEEK, February 6, 1978, pp. 18-30.
3. "Those Charges Against the CIA: What the Record Shows," U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT, August 25, 1975, pp. 38-41.
4. "Is Espionage Necessary for Our Security," by Herbert Scoville, Jr., FOREIGN AFFAIRS, April 1976, pp. 482-495.
5. "The Cult of Incompetence," by Morton H. Halperin, NEW REPUBLIC, November 8, 1975, pp. 11-14.
6. "Spying and a Free Society - CIA Chief Speaks Out," U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT, April 26, 1971, pp. 84-86.